An outdoor season

The urge to live life outdoors rises as wind and rain give way to the sun and lighter evenings. This season's outdoor collection brings the comfort of indoor life outside with new garden umbrellas, furniture, and planters.

Want to upgrade your terrace or give your balcony an upgrade? A new planter is an easy solution that delivers on both timeless style and aesthetic feel. If your plans are more elaborate, add a garden umbrella to enjoy life outside, even on the sunniest of days.

The Helo range sees two new iron tables and a chair. Black and timeless, they are easily worked into any personal style and lays the foundation for a cosy retreat outside.

Perfect for a season of relaxing, lounging and celebrating, this outdoor collection gives you every opportunity to create your personal space.

Understated materials turn into timeless planters to elevate your outdoor space.
